TO
PINO DANIELE
(ITALY)

The Mediterranean is not only a journey through geography, history, religions, traditions, wars, cultures, destiny...

It is above all art and music that characterize the cradle of our civilization.

Pino Daniele represents the rare example of a person who, by matching cultural and musical contaminations, has been able to identify in the Mediterranean culture that mixture of sound and passion being the fundamental basis of his art.

Starting from Naples Pino Daniele has refashioned music and song through the emotions of conscience, by transferring to the peculiarity of his voice and his guitar those vibrations of soul that make him a unique protagonist of the “Song coming from the Sea”.
