

MEDITERRANEAN AWARD FOR CIVIL SOCIETY
TO ROMANO PRODI
(ITALY)

For the far-sightedness by which, in his capacity as President of the European Commission, he wanted to assign a key role in European policies to the dialogue among cultures and civilizations .

The result of the work carried out by the “High-Level Advisory Group” - set up by him in 2002 - is still today a reference for the Euro-Mediterranean cooperation and for the cultural and social interaction in the region, being a founding pillar of “Anna Lindh” Foundation.
