Agreement among the “Anna Lindh” Foundation Heads of Networks of Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Italy, Romania and Slovenia.

Introduction

1. Fondazione Mediterraneo, Head of the Italian Anna Lindh Foundation (Alf) Network, has worked since its foundation, in 1994, on solidarity and partnership actions with the Countries of the Balkan Region.
2. According to the decisions of the Euro-Mediterranean Conference held in Dublin (May 2004) – which assigned the Italian Alf Network a special role to implement and develop the Alf and its networks – Fondazione Mediterraneo committed itself since the birth of the Alf to make available its networking and partnership system, its structures and seats in the different Countries.
3. During the 8th Meeting of the Alf Heads of Networks in Gothenburg in November 2009, an informal meeting took place among the Heads of Network of Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Italy, Montenegro, Romania and Slovenia.
4. The Heads of Networks agreed upon organising an operational meeting in Naples with the aim to realise common actions.
5. By initiative of Fondazione Mediterraneo, on the 12th and 13th of February 2010, the Heads of Networks of Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Italy, Romania and Slovenia met in Naples.
6. On that occasion Fondazione Mediterraneo organised a Conference about “The Dialogue among Cultures in the Central Mediterranean” during which the Italian Members of the Alf and the Heads of Networks mentioned above met to discuss how to organise and promote common projects and actions.

7. During the two days of work, some meetings took place among the Members of the Italian Alf Network, representatives of various institutions and the Heads of Networks of Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Italy, Romania and Slovenia.

Among the others there were:

- Prof. Gianluca Sadun Bordoni (University of Teramo) who showed the Medadrion Project, which aims at creating a Network of Universities from Italy and the Balkans
- Dr. Giovanni Agresti, who presented the Lem-Italia Association and its projects
- Min. Cosimo Risi, Diplomatic Counsellor of Campania Region
- Prof. Nullo Minissi, former Rector of “L’Orientale” University, expert about Balkans
- Prof. Caterina Arcidiacono, vicepresident of Fondazione Mediterraneo
- Giovanni Farace from Associazione Leucosia (a project concerning the myth)
- Dr. Luigi De Luca from Istituto di Culture Mediterranee della Provincia di Lecce (programme on migrations)
- Dr. Valeria Puccini and Dr. Maria Ciavarella from the University of Foggia (intercultural programme)
- Hon. Enzo Rivellini, representative of the European Parliament, who expressed his availability to support the Alf Activities
- Mario Violini, Director of Napoli Film Festival
- Dr. Antonio Altiero from I.P.S.C. (a project concerning the Voluntary Service)
- Dr. Antonia Gualtieri, responsible for social policies, migrations and voluntary service in Campania Region
- Dr. Leonzio Borea, Director of the National Voluntary Service, representative of the Italian Government.

Agreement:

1. Fondazione Mediterraneo, through its networks will make available some spaces during the two events that it has co organised since 1996 – the Trieste Film Festival and the Napoli Film Festival – with a specific section dedicated to the Dialogue among Cultures, directly lead by the Heads of Networks of Albania,

Bosnia and Herzegovina, Hungary, Italy, Romania and Slovenia. At the same time – as to Napoli Film Festival – the Jury of the whole Festival, which is composed only by young people from Campania Region, will also include young people (20-35) from Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Romania and Slovenia.

(Costs will be in charge of the festivals)
